Welcome to the Upgraded and Enhanced AIPSO.com

Effective October 1, 2016, AIPSO is introducing a number of significant design changes and enhancements to its website — AIPSO.com. Visitors to AIPSO.com should be aware of the following changes.

- The look and feel of AIPSO.com will be different. However, the navigation of AIPSO.com will remain the same. Any bookmarks that have been saved will continue to work.
- The link to Log into AIPSO.com has been moved to the upper right corner of the website.
- Some security enhancements have been made.
  - AIPSO.com now has a password reset function instead of password retrieval.
  - A password policy has been implemented where you cannot reuse your last five passwords.
- All e-mail alerts have been carried forward. If you are signed up to receive email alerts, you will continue to receive them.
- New e-mail alert categories have been introduced for AIPSO publications and our monthly application volume exhibits<sup>1</sup>.
- AIPSO has introduced biographies of the members of AIPSO's Senior Management Team. You'll find them by clicking on the About Senior Management button on the About AIPSO page.

We hope you find that the changes and enhancements we've made make your visit to AIPSO.com more productive and informative. Send us an e-mail at info@aipso.com and let us know what you think of the changes to AIPSO.com.
